

I notice the job description and company name appear to be blank in your submission. I want to make sure I write you the most targeted, compelling cover letter possible rather than a generic one.

Could you please provide:

1. Company name - Who are you applying to?
2. Job description - The actual posting with responsibilities, requirements, and any details about the team or tech stack

With those details, I can:

- Reference the company's specific products or mission
- Mirror the language from their job posting
- Connect your Rails, Elasticsearch, and EmberJS/React experience directly to what they're asking for
- Make it feel written specifically for this role rather than recycled

Once you share those, I'll turn around a strong, personalized letter right away.
