

Dear Hiring Manager,

I'm reaching out to express my interest in the Backend Developer freelance opportunity. With over 10 years of hands-on experience building and scaling full-stack SaaS platforms, I bring deep expertise in Ruby on Rails, MySQL, and the surrounding ecosystem that your backend systems likely depend on — along with the ownership mindset and reliability you'd want from a senior freelance contributor.

In my time at Onclusive India (via STG Labs), I worked extensively on backend API development, Elasticsearch integrations, and performance optimization for production systems serving real-time data at scale. At Reflektive Labs, I owned features end-to-end — from database design through to deployment — which sharpened my ability to move fast without cutting corners. These experiences gave me a strong sense of how backend decisions ripple outward into product quality, and I take that responsibility seriously whether I'm embedded in a team or working independently.

What makes me effective as a freelancer isn't just technical depth, but communication and self-direction. Having served as a Tech Lead at L&T; Technology Services, I'm comfortable aligning with product goals, flagging tradeoffs early, and delivering clean, well-tested code — backed by solid RSpec coverage — without needing heavy hand-holding. I write the kind of code that the next engineer will thank you for.

I'd love to learn more about the project and share how my background maps to your specific needs. Happy to jump on a call at your convenience.

Warm regards,
